

AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

IS MISS LITTLEJOHN TO MARRY AGAIN?

A report was published yesterday that Miss Maud Littlejohn, who secured a divorce a little more than a year ago from Corporation Counsel Albert F. Jenks in Rhode Island, on the ground of non-support, to about to marry the Rev. Charles A. Jessup, of Hollis, Long Island, one of the assistant rectors of the Cathedral in Garden City, where Miss Littlejohn lived with her father, Bishop A. N. Littlejohn. Mr. Jenks has been married nearly a year and has a child by his second wife. The reported engagement of Miss Littlejohn possesses special interest from the fact that after her divorce her father secured an opinion upon the facts of the case from Bishops Potter, Williams, Huntington and Starkey that the marriage had been null and void ab initio.

Dr. Charles H. Hall said yesterday that it was not true that he had been asked to conduct the marriage ceremony for Miss Littlejohn and Mr. Jessup. In his opinion the attendance of the bishops in the case of the divorce did not carry any weight of authority in the matter and was only a private opinion. The church only recognized a single valid divorce, and a clergyman could only marry the innocent party to a divorce which had been granted on scriptural grounds. There was no authority in the church to declare a marriage null and void.

INTIMIDATED BY A GANG OF RUFIANS.

The Rev. C. S. Williams, pastor of the Francis M. E. Church at Stillman-st., is indignant over the insults the members of his congregation are subjected to on Sundays by a gang of ruffians who congregate in the neighborhood. Although Mr. Williams says, he has lodged repeated complaints to Captain Martin of the Thirtieth precinct, the abuse is not abated. The matter has reached such a point that many of the members of the congregation have been chased several blocks by the members of the gang, and several of the Sunday-school children have been subjected to assault while on their way to Sunday-school. On Sunday, Mr. Williams says, he himself was cursed and threatened with violence by a big, hulking fellow without any provocation.

HER HUSBAND DIDN'T KEEP HIS PROMISE.

Mrs. Mary H. Oakley is suing the sons of her second husband, Whitson Oakley, a well-known liverman, to recover her dower rights in her husband's estate. Mr. Oakley was seventy-five years old in 1883, and Mrs. Oakley was thirty-nine years old, and he induced her to marry him, stating that he had property in real estate at Hart and Livingston sts. worth $40,000. After the marriage she learned that he had deeded it to his sons, Solomon and George W., subsequent to her agreement to marry him, but before the ceremony was performed. When she learned the facts her husband gave her a note for $5,000, but the sons refused to pay it. Oakley died on April 10, 1890. The suit is in the Supreme Court.

AN OFFER FOR BROOKLYN GAS STOCK.

An offer has been made to the board of directors of the Brooklyn Gas Light Company by C. E. Staples, acting for J. E. Addicks, for the purchase of the whole or part of the $2,000,000 of stock of the corporation. Mr. Addicks is well known as a manipulator of gas stocks and has consolidated companies in several cities. He is president of the Bay State Gas Company of Boston, and of the Consolidated Gas Company of Philadelphia. It is understood that he offers 150 for the stock of the Brooklyn Company. He has tried to secure it before.

GATHERED ABOUT THE TOWN.

Thomas Breedy, twenty-eight years old, of No. 10, Vanderbilt-ave., a driver for Abraham Debolah & Co., mineral-water-dealers, was thrown from his wagon at Park-ave. and Ryerson-st., yesterday afternoon, his team becoming unmanageable, and he received internal injuries from which he died.

A jury awarded a verdict for $5,000 yesterday in the suit of Edward Tracy against Francis Gallagher, growing out of injuries caused by his falling into an excavation on the property of the defendant, which prevented his getting a valuable contract. No defense was put in.

The Aldermen adjourned their weekly meeting in the middle of the transaction of business yesterday, and hurried away to the racetrack. As they are now salaried officials, they have more money to spend for personal pleasure than when they served the city for nothing.

The Rev. Willard H. Robinson, who recently left the First Baptist Church to become a Congregationalist, has declined a call to the Central Congregational Church of Boston. He recently declined a call to Chicago. He will probably accept the call of some country church.

The official opinion of the Corporation Counsel, asked for by the Excise Board, that the Commissioner of Police is president of the Board of Excise, and that the Board can name a clerk and an attorney and counsel. Mr. Jenks also holds that under the new law the Board of Estimate has the power to fix the salaries of the Excise Commissioners. They now get $2,500 a year each.

THE NEW REAL ESTATE AUCTION ROOMS.

BROKERS SUE FOR THE RIGHT TO MAKE SALES THERE UNDER ORDER OF THE COURTS.

The trouble which broke out among the auctioneers of the Real Estate Exchange some time ago has grown worse instead of ending. The increased charge of commissions which the officers of the Exchange proposed to collect from the owners of the property to be sold at auction started the trouble. The opposition movement was led by the Auctioneers' Real Estate Association, and when the officers of the Exchange refused to recognize the complaints of the opposition side, other quarters were leased, and the dissatisfied auctioneers will transfer their business heretofore at the old Real Estate Exchange rooms to No. 111 Broadway. Yesterday the auction tables were moved into the Broadway rooms, and in a few days the place will be ready for business. But the local sales cannot be held there unless the courts so decide, and that is where the new trouble comes in. The opposition represents a majority of the auctioneers, including all the leading ones in the city except R. V. Harriet, and they declare that legal sales, as well as ordinary ones, should be permitted in the new place. They have applied to the courts for a decision, and all sides are anxiously awaiting the result.

There is no good reason why the auctioneers should leave the Exchange to make their sales," said Mr. Harriet yesterday. "The rooms at the Exchange are everything that can be desired, and to have two auction rooms will result disastrously to the trade."

Joe Johnson, Jr., James L. Wells, Smith & Ryan and others, who the local sales cannot be held there unless the courts so decide, and that is where the new trouble comes in. The opposition represents a majority of the auctioneers, including all the leading ones in the city except R. V. Harriet, and they declare that legal sales, as well as ordinary ones, should be permitted in the new place. They have applied to the courts for a decision, and all sides are anxiously awaiting the result.

A pitiful tale of cruelty to a child was told in the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday when Agent Schmitt, of the Gerry Society, arrested Mary Taylor, a robust colored woman, on a charge of ill-treating an eight-year old girl named Martha Monroe, who was left in her care. According to the neighbors, Mrs. Taylor has been in the habit of beating the little one in the most inhuman manner and several times has compelled the child to get out of bed at 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning to carry water up stairs from the yard. At 10 o'clock on the night of May 4 all the inmates of the tenement-house No. 344 West Forty-first-st., where Mrs. Taylor lives, were aroused by the agonizing cries of the child. Mrs. Jane Gilmore, who lives on the same floor, tried to get into Mrs. Taylor's tenement, but the door was locked. She then called John Rich, another neighbor, who climbed onto a fire-escape and got in that way. He found the room pitch dark. He saw a light and discovered the little girl with her hands tightly tied behind her to the knob of a door. Mrs. Taylor was out. The child's hands and arms were fearfully swollen, and she was nearly demented with fright at having been left alone in the dark in such a position.

The child was then taken care of by the janitor for the night, but was returned to Mrs. Taylor the next day. She did not abate one whit of her cruelty, however, so finally word was sent to the Gerry Society and she was arrested Sunday. Justice Grady held her in $500 bail for trial.

NEW PHRENOLOGICAL HEADQUARTERS.

The new rooms of the American Institute of Phrenology and of the Fowler & Wells Company were opened yesterday for inspection. They are at No. 27 East Twenty-first-st. and are handsomely arranged and well adapted to their purposes. The books and the valuable collection of casts of crania were shown to those interested by members of the New York Association of Graduates of the American Institute of Phrenology, and in the evening Professor Nelson Smith, president of the association, made an address, the address entitled, "Why a Knowledge of Phrenology Should be Extended."

CLOUDS VISIT ELDORADO.

Eldorado on the Palisades, opposite Fort-second-st. ferry, is attracting large and delighted crowds. Last Sunday the park was thronged in spite of the threatening weather. It is open every afternoon and evening. The music is by Nathan Frank's band. A number of improvements have been introduced since last season.

The justice is eighty years old, and has been a justice of the peace for more than a quarter of a century. James Collins, a junkman, was recently arrested and taken before Aldridge and charged with having stolen a large number of beer bottles that belonged to Beedleston & Coetz. The case was compromised by Collins paying some money to the justice. He laid the matter before the Grand Jury and the indictment was found.

NEWARK.

AN ATTEMPT TO BURN A CHURCH.

An attempt was made at 2 a. m. yesterday to burn the Italian Roman Catholic Church of St. Philip Neri in Newark. The flames originated in a barrel of waste paper in a closet and spread to the vestibule. The flames put out the fire with extinguishers. A small window opened from the closet for ventilation and any person could drop a lighted match through the window. The pastor was informed by a young woman living in the neighborhood that at 2 a. m. she heard talking on the street and saw two men and a woman standing in front of that part of the church where the closet is located. The woman and one man walked down the street and the second man after lingering for a minute rejoined the others and all three ran down the street. A minute afterward she saw a blaze in the church.

Among other places searched was the room of the seamstress. A sackful of French lace, worth $100, was found in the room. The woman was arrested and committed to the Union County Jail. There were two satchels in the room, and they contained many of the lace that had been stolen from stores in New-York.

LONG ISLAND.

OVERDUE TAXES MUST BE PAID.

Long Island City's delinquent taxpayers will be compelled, according to a recent decision of the Court of Appeals, to pay up back taxes, aggregating about $1,000,000. The fight by the delinquents to stave off payment has been waged in the court for years, and fought against by Mayor Glenison and Corporation Counsel Foster. Whenever a suit was brought against one delinquent, the others all came to the rescue, and till two cases were carried to the Court of Appeals. The Union College people, the Woolsey, Thompson, Collins and Vandewater estates are involved. When these arrangements are paid the city will be out of debt.

CONGREGATIONALISTS MEET AT DINNER.

The thirtieth annual meeting of the Congregational Club of New-York City was held last evening at the 21, Duane Hall, at Broadway and Eleventh-st. The Rev. Dr. Lucien C. Warner presided. The large dining-room was comfortably filled, many ladies being among those present. After the usual dinner had been served Dr. Warner introduced in a pleasant manner the Rev. Dr. Alexander McKenzie, of Cambridge, Mass., who made an interesting speech upon the subject of the evening, which was, "The Uses of Congregational Clubs." In speaking of the troubles which occasionally arise in churches, Dr. McKenzie said: "What has become of the Andover case? I do not know. All that was true in it is true in this case. The hearts of men, and what was not true has vanished." The other speakers were the Rev. Dr. D. C. Meigs, of Worcester, Mass., and Benjamin W. Gallup, of Providence, R. I. The annual election of officers resulted as follows: Lucien C. Warner, President; Irving H. Gaylord, Secretary, and Charles E. Hope, Treasurer.

FREE TO COMMIT OTHER ASSAULTS.

ELEVATED ROAD EMPLOYEES NOT DISCHARGED ON COURT DECISIONS.

All the elevated railroad employees, with only one exception, who have been convicted of brutality to passengers are still in the employ of the company. It is asserted, and the officers of the road decline to give a reason why the men are still in a position to repeat acts of violence. Passengers recently have suffered severely at the hands of the elevated railroad guards, but the men have not apparently been removed from their places because of their brutality. When a Tribune reporter called on F. K. Hahn, general manager, yesterday to ask his reason for keeping men in the employ of the road who had been convicted of assaulting passengers his secretary said that Mr. Hahn declined to talk for publication on the subject.

THE COMPANY HAS DISCHARGED MEN FOR BEING RUDE TO PASSENGERS WHEN THE OCCASION DEMANDS IT, BUT WHEN THE MEN ARE NOT TO BLAME I DO NOT THINK THE COMPANY WILL DEPRIVE ANY MAN OF HIS POSITION. MOST JURIES ARE PREJUDICED AGAINST THE COMPANY, AND THE VERDICTS RENDERED DO NOT ALWAYS PROVE THAT OUR MEN ARE GUILTY."
